DUTCHLAND PLASTICS COMPLETES ACQUISITION: PROVIDING MORE “CUSTOM” FOR CUSTOMERS

JANUARY 25, 2012 – Oostburg, WI – Dutchland Plastics announced that its affiliated entity, Dutchland Plastics Southeast, LLC has completed the acquisition of the assets of Continental Southern Industries (CSI), a company located in Greenville, SC which specializes in large part blow molding. The announcement enables Dutchland to expand its already growing blow molding services, while broadening its geographical reach into the southeast.

“CSI has earned a reputation for providing large, custom blow molding capabilities,” said Carl Claerbout, Dutchland’s CEO & Owner. “At Dutchland, we have molded our reputation on customer service. The combination of Dutchland’s strong reputation and experience with CSI’s capabilities will be a powerful benefit to our customers. We are committed to growing and producing right here in the USA.”

Dutchland Plastics Corp. is a leading custom manufacturer of rotational and blow molded plastic products. Founded in 1967, Dutchland Plastics provides product and services to customers around the world. Dutchland Plastics Corp. is a private, family-owned business that is in its second generation of ownership.
